565 Broome Soho is Pritzker Prize-winning architect Renzo Piano's first New York City residential project. The 30-story structure is located in one of New York's most historic neighborhoods and is a praise to transparency with the outside light coming in from the full-height windows.

The remarkable sunsets that color the Hudson river warm the residences at 565 Broome Street where the MGI Group supplied Statuario Caldia® for the bathrooms to bring a hint of craft and luxury. The architects chose the beauty of natural materials: by keeping the palette austere they accentuated the quality of stone.
