3 months to develop and produce a project
A cube of Caldia marble as a starting point
No limits to develop the idea or theme.

Curated by: Wolf Günter Thiel (art critic and curator)
Caldia Cube project is developed and promoted by Gabriele Braglia and Stefano Pesce – Marmi e Graniti d'Italia Sicilmarmi

The Project

The three parallel universes of Art, Architecture and Design find their meeting point. The marble is no longer considered heavy but fluid and dynamic thanks to the work of great professionals who are able to interpret material belonging to Italian art history in innovative ways.

The starting point is a cube of CALDIA marble. 3 artists, 3 designers and 3 architects had two months to develop an idea and one month to produce an object that will be part of a limited edition of 5. For the design of their works the artists were completely free, had no limit, if not the cube and its physical limits.

Exhibition Plan

During 2011 the Caldia Cube project has been exhibited in various locations AS THE Fuorisalone in Milan and the DMY in Berlin. The idea is to show the works of the artists: Michele Chiossi (I), Hofstetter Kurt (A), Giuseppe Silvestri (I), the designer: Francesco Lucchese (I), Karim Rashid (USA), Leonard Theosabrata (ID), architects: Davide Macullo (CH), Alessia Garibaldi e Giorgio Piliego(I) in different context in order to stress out the lightness of the works that clashes with the weight of the material, creating a sensation of movement, underlined by the diversity of interpretation that accompany the works of architects, designers and artists involved in the project.
