The Ivy is an oasis of style that, with impeccable service, has set the standard of British dining since it was founded in 1917. With a constant celebration of the arts and culture, The Ivy London, located in the heart of Theatre Land in London's Covent Garden, is the epitome of glamour. There is its iconic and sparkling Central Dining Bar where the counter in Honey Onix, a high-quality material from Iran, makes a fine show of itself, catching the attention of the patrons. Its distinctive feature is the translucent background that allows the patterned veins to show through when exposed to light, ideal for backlit counters with a warm and fascinating effect
